

Lomakatsi
Restoration Project

Looking for something FUN to do this summer?
Excited about making the world a better place?
Interested in Ecology, Restoration or Forestry?
Want to earn some extra cash working outside?

If your response is “YES” to any of these, you are invited to Apply!

Ashland Watershed Youth Training and Employment Program

When: July 15, 2013 thru Aug. 8, 2013

Who Can Apply:

Juniors and Seniors from
Medford, Phoenix and Ashland

Pay: $10.00 per hour

Schedule: 32 hours per week,
Monday through Thursday

Application Deadline: May 17, 2013

Photo credit: Sean Bagshaw

Program Information:

Help make a difference in the world this summer! Put on your boots and gloves and get to work restoring the forests and streams of southwest Oregon.

Using the Ashland Watershed as an outdoor laboratory, your participation in this program will help you gain valuable workforce experience through the exploration of career paths in natural resources, restoration, science and ecology.

Under the guidance of Lomakatsi's professional workforce trainers and guest natural resource specialists, you will take part in stewardship related activities that include ecological restoration, technical forestry, botany, invasive species management, stream restoration, ecological monitoring, fire ecology, watershed management, wildlife habitat restoration, trail maintenance, soil science, and more.

Are You Ready to Work?

Applications will be posted on Lomakatsi's website by April 15, 2013: www.lomakatsi.org

For More Information:

Phone: (541) 488-0208

Email: info@lomakatsi.org